Colorado Match Play Golf Starts

The Colorado State match play golf championship tournament started Tuesday with a pair of familiar names heading the 64-man championship brack-

At the top was defending state ehampion Hale Irwin of Boulder, the Big Eight golf champion who added the NCAA and Broadmoar Invitational titles to his list this summer.

Heading the bottom bracket is Irwin's golf coach, Les Fowler of Boulder, who toured Hyland Hills golf course in three-underpar 69 Monday to win the qualifying medal.

Fowler, who lost to Irwin last Saturday in the semifinals of the Broadmoor tournament, has twice won the state medal play title and this tournament once. He had four birdies and a single bogey against Hyland Hills' 36-36-72 card.

Coleman Robinson was the only other player to break par Monday while Jim English Jr., R. D. Richaert, George Green-wald and Wray Hansen matched
