Ken Krieger Mixes Right Ingredients

Ken Krieger of the Valley Country Club has the basic recipe for winning. It all begins with the ingredients which were the three Sunday in-a-row sneaker scalps. His five-foot, eight-inch amateur who now owns the runner-up tag in three area match-play tournaments. He was runner-up at Mark Creek, also of Colorado and the University of Colorado golf team, a year ago. In 1975 he lost in the finals of the Colorado Open match-play championship in T.C. Still a bit dazed by Krieger's steady touch and under-par assault, Lane said: "It's tough. I wanted this one real bad." Krieger's morning card, the deadliest message he delivered, had him at 34-3-39. But by the 11th hole played in the afternoon, Krieger was in over four-under-par on the round.

"I like match play," he said, "but it's too hard doing it every week. It would be good as a change of pace, say once a month.

Lane, who will play in the Hale Twinn Invitational at the Lake Valley Golf Club, wants to earn enough points to make the Gould's Cup Team. He has more than 50 points and feels he needs to be in the top 10 to make it.

Krieger got his first invitation for the men's amateur beginning Monday at the Broadmoor Golf Club but already has assured himself a spot on the amateur Cup squad. This is a grudge match, as one does to win or lose by the wide margin Krieger posted over Lane.

"No. 1, I wasn't trying to back off after I went eight up in the morning," he said. "I was two-under-par effort compared to Lane's 39-3-58."

"No. 2, I couldn't do that in match play."

Lane interjected: "The morning was perfect for putting and I just didn't make any," he said.

"Don't blame the people on the other end岘or Lane," Krieger said. "They could show how different this course is from the morning. It really wakes up in the afternoon," he said of the greens made by golf shoes and repaired balls.

"Scott just missed a couple of putts at No. 3, 4, 5 and 10 and we went under-par at the end of six holes," Krieger said.

Lane had key holes of eight, 10 and 18 on the背手, while Krieger was clubbing binies at one from eight feet, four from 15 feet, and 12 from 15 feet. At No. 5. During the afternoon, Lane missed the par-five green and lost it with a bogey, the putt to save par crossing the cup but there was no kiss.

Krieger said: "I finally made a four-bogey at the eighth."

Lanee said of his only win on the 16th hole. He also made the ninth, made a four-bogey at the second hole, but that was a halve. Too bad we couldn't play out of the traps all day," he said. He came out of the sand twice to save par but couldn't keep up with the putting pace of Krieger.

THE MATCH COLLAPSED beginning at the 15th hole where Lame three-putted from 40 feet. Krieger reached the par-four hole 15th with a drive and a 3-wood to set up a 29-foot eagle putt. He missed, but the birdie was good enough to win the hole.

Krieger also birdied the par-five 16th hole where he two-putted for a birdie from 13 feet, the ball just flicking the cup on his eagle putt.

"I got off to a quick start, I never tried to break a leg," Krieger said. "I knew that Scott had just missed a couple of putts and I still had baguette."

Lane tried to rally with a one-under-par effort on the front side of the afternoon round, but a bogey at the third, where he three-putted from 30 feet, was a self-sabotaging situation.

Lane caddied a birdie at No. 13, 14 feet, then missed a birdie win at 12 feet at No. 2. This was on his mind when he three-putted at the third. But the fourth when Krieger missed a halving par from four feet, that only put him dumber on the match.

LANE RECEIVED ANOTHER jab at the par-three seventh, where he finally rolled home a 28-foot putter for a birdie only to have Krieger top that from 12 feet.

It was routine at the ninth but Lane went into the right rough at the hole of the hole and couldn't get his birdie wood home from the deep grass and he chipped away and bogeyed the 483-yard par-five par. He didn't get the birdie from the back fringe and won with the one-under for par. Both halved the 11th with threes and it was all over.

"Finally won again," Krieger said. "I wasn't sure I would. I hadn't won anything since last November."

His biggest disappointment came in the same North-South Amateur at Pinehurst, N.C. earlier this summer.

"I didn't play a bad round until I got in the semis and then I lost to Mike Donald," Krieger said. "I'm a freshman at my school (Georgia Southern) but funked out."

Second-Chance HR Wins for L.A.

"All I was looking for was a hole on the right side," said Dave Lopez.

He found it in Bruce Boisclair's glove.

Lopes was given a second chance Sunday when the New York Mets right fielder dropped his foul fly ball in the ninth inning, and he promptly took advantage of it with a three-run homer that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-3 victory.

"It was an enigma, on Boisclair dropped that ball," said Lopez. "After that I knew I had to get a hit. I went trying to do was find a way to get the tying run home. But what I did was make good contact and find the seats.

New York Manager Joe Torre could only shake his head and throw his hands up to the heavens.

"It is ironic that Boisclair could go from one extreme to the other, first getting the winning RBI and then the error that led to the loss," said Torre.

BOISCLAIR went from here to get in the space of one inning. In the top of the ninth, he had sent the Mets ahead 3-2 with a pitch-hitter sacrifice fly.

The victory stopped a three-game Dodger losing streak and improved their lead to 1½ games over the Cincinnati Reds in the National League West. The clumping Redbirds dropped their straight game Sunday, a 1-0 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I believe all we needed was a victory like this to get us going again," said Dodger Manager Tom Lasorda, who held a press conference with his team to give his players a pop talk.

In other National League action, the Houston Astros took a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 1-0 and 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies tripped the San Diego Padres 4-3, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Atlanta Braves 7-5, and the San Francisco Giants beat the Montreal Expos twice 3-0 and 5-4 in 12 innings.

STEVIE YEAGER opened the Dodger rally in the ninth with a two-out single off Met starter Nino Espinosa. At this point, Bob Apodaca came into the game and gave up a single to pitch-hitter Manny Mota before he was victimized by Boisclair's error.

Lopez then sent the Dodger fans home happy with his three-run shot into the left-centerfield seats, the sixth home run of his career.

Swinging for Record

ST. LOUIS—40 by the right shoulder with the left arm of a left-handed pitcher and the right arm of a right-handed one, Mike Rose says his next hit in a uniform will give him the National League record for the most home runs in a season.

The 35-year-old Rose, who is in his 15th campaign, will set his sights on becoming the first player to hit a home run from both sides of the plate in a season.

Rose, a three-time National League batting champ, has hit three times during his 15-year career, including a 1,200-foot fly by in the Pittsburgh Pirates, drawing abus. But that was just a home run. The actual home run was a 885-foot blast in the record book.

He lashed a drive down the leftfield line against St. Louis last week, but was later disheartened when a video replay showed the ball going over the fence.
