

Paul Brown Wins Fifth CGA Western Chapter Championship

Paul Brown of Bookcliff Country Club added a fifth Colorado Golf Association Western Chapter crown to his resume with a narrow one-stroke win over two Front Range golfers. The king of amateur golf on the western slope, he doesn't do too badly when he crosses the divide either, Brown shot two straight one-under 71s at Deer Creek Golf Course in Cedar-edge, Colorado, on July 31 and August 1, for a one shot win over Tim Burns of Foothills Golf Course and Erich Gott of Meadow Hills Golf Course.

The tournament was close right down to the end as Brown put up birdies on Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 6 in the final round while Gott matched Brown's birdie on 6 and added two others on Nos. 7 and 8. The tournament was decided on the par-4 409-yard 18th when Gott couldn't convert a five-foot par-putt for a tie.

"I was really having trouble with the 18th, but in the final round I hit a two-iron off the tee and a nine-iron to about 12 feet," said Brown. "I just missed the birdie putt."

"It's always a great feeling to win," added Brown. "I'd like to come over and play more golf, but I don't have the time I used to. Hopefully next year I'll have the chance to come play in the Colorado Open and some of the other big tournaments."

Other flight winners were as follows: Lewis Young, Deer Creek, First Flight; Leonard Owen, Deer Creek, Second Flight; Pat Hayes, Rifle Creek, Third Flight; and Brian Hammond, Rifle Creek, Fourth Flight.
