

Pros dominate amateurs again in Colorado Cup

The pros defeated the amateurs 10½-7½ yesterday in the 25th annual Colorado Cup Matches, in which the top 12 amateurs in the state compete head-to-head with 12 professionals.

The matches were held at Bear Creek Golf Club, which has hosted the event the past three years. The professionals have dominated the tournament, winning 18 times.

Teams of two players each from the professionals and amateurs compete in a four-ball format (best ball) in the morning and then in an individual match in the afternoon.

The Senior Colorado Cup Matches were held concurrently with the regular matches in a similar format. The amateurs and the professionals tied 9-9 this year for the first time in the 12-year history of Senior Colorado Cup.
